

March 29, 2018

IMPORTANT

Volume and Test Result Delays

We are currently experiencing challenges with data collection resulting in some producers not receiving their pickup information via email. In addition, updating test results on our website and test result emails are delayed. We are aware of the issues and actively working to resolve them as quickly as possible. Thank you for your patience.